

News From Your TOWN HALL

Mrs. Rinno Williams, Water Department Clerk, has gone to Montgomery, Ala., for a few weeks to visit relatives. In the meantime Mr. Wallis is taking care of her work.

The Landers Construction Co. is busy on Belle Glade's streets, repaving, filling and slugging. The majority of the work will be in the streets in around the business section and the Quarters. Townsville's main street is being rocked and surfaced.

Funds already set up in the street budget will be used and other funds will most likely be made available when this has been exhausted. The original fund was more than $6,000, and probably more than that amount will be spent from other funds that are available.

Plans are under way to increase the capacity of our water plant substantially during the summer by the addition of filters and settling basins. Both of these will be available when and if the lines are run to the Lake as soon as materials are available.

While the Landers outfit is here it is possible that the Town will have some rock dug on its rock pit west of town.

When the major repairs and completed it is planned to haul rock from the Hillsboro canal banks to patch and repair other streets in town that are most in need of it.

G. I. Joe To Get Letter From Everglades Theatre

Malcolm Miller, manager of the Everglades and Prince Theatres, will send a letter to the Commander in Chief of the United States Service of the United States, President Roosevelt, at the close of the 5th war loan drive with the signature of every man who purchases a ticket through the above named theatres.

The novel idea which has not been used by any other theatre should bring favorable publicity to the Palm Beach County section of the Everglades because the letter will be forwarded and related to the press of the United States and the official men of the servicemen's newspapers, The Stars and Stripes.

Here is the letter:

Dear Joe:

We want you to know that the folks back home in Belle Glade, Glades and South Bay are backing the attack 100 per cent with extra war bonds in the 5th war loan drive.

We are going to Berlin and Tokyo with you Joe, not with a gun in our hands but with war bonds that we may have in the way of victory nearer and hasten that great moment when we may welcome you home with honors bestowing your magnificent contribution in liberating the enslaved people of the world.

Your grateful home folks,

Name _____

This above letter will be at the Everglades Theatre and everyone who purchases a bond there may place their signature upon it. Mr. Miller hopes to place 1000 names on this letter. The Everglades Theatre is an issuing agent and the cashier has been instructed to take orders for bonds, which will be written at the Prince Theatre in Pahokee and mailed to the purchaser, or delivered to the box office of the same day.

PTA EXECUTIVE BOARD MEETS

The executive board of the Parents Teachers Association held a meeting at the school which it was decided to serve only plate lunches at the school cafeteria next year in order to qualify for Federal and State aid. No lunches will be charged next year and will be served only to those who have cash or meal tickets. This was decided because of money still on the books uncollected from last season.

Mrs. M. A. Murphy was re-appointed manager of the cafeteria for the next year and it was announced that the County School Board is remodeling the cafeteria and making extensive improvements in order to get a better rating next year.

The rating last year was classified as a Grade "D" because of the lack of lockers for the workers, lack of rest room, inadequate dish washing facilities and other physical inconveniences such as too few small, low tables and chairs for small children.

In her annual report Mrs. Murphy announced that 64,059 school lunches were served during the term just finished 1,800 of these being free to underprivileged children. She pointed out that this number of free lunches is greatly reduced from previous years.

Lake Osborne Camp Filled With Scouts During Month of June

Lake Osborne Scout Camp is getting all set for the hectic month of June which will celebrate closing of school by spending a week or more at this training center for local Scouts. Mr. Haylip local camping chairman received notice today that New Dicks, new refrigeration, new notes, mattresses, new roofs, a new building and improvements had been installed and camp was ready to greet the boys on the opening day.

The Belle Glade Troop will go on June 18th to 25th. The capacity of Lake Osborne camp has been increased from 10 to 95 per week in order to take care of the flood of applicants who are clamoring for a chance to enjoy outdoor scouting. Half of the boys will be in tents and half in cabins.

This year the program is planned to strengthen the troop organization. Scouts will attend camp by troops under their own leadership. The program will include a good foundation in sea swimming methods, camp sanitation, camp cookery, canoeing, boating, physical development, nature, and various outdoor games and campfire programs.

The camp will be under the direction of Scout Executive P. Patterson, who has been conducting Scout camps for the past 18 years. He will be assisted by W. E. Newton, Scoutmaster and leader who has had special training as a camp director.

These two leaders will be assisted by a corps of Scoutmasters who will attend with their troops. In addition a selected group of advanced or Eagle Scouts will also serve as junior officers and will instruct in various phases of Scouting.

Organized Effort By Glades Farmers For Labor Control

Lack Of Organized Effort Is Menace To Farmers Labor

The shifting of labor from and to the Glades during the past thirty days since the practical end of the season of winter vegetables, offers a most interesting study and suggest the efficiency of some centralized effort on the part of the farmers of the community.

The local Federal and State combined agency for handling agricultural labor reports that permission has been given to 428 agricultural workers to move from this area to other farm areas. Their estimate that more than this same number have gone by bus and railroad makes the total movement more than 10,000 laborers leaving the community.

The movement of Bahamians from here to northern points earlier than they could be used has been effected.

The Federal Employment agencies have come into the area and hired for canning plants close to a thousand workers offering them free transportation to the job. Of course the workers will be given a social security number, and the chances are that they will migrate into not return to agriculture are slim. These men were taken out without the permission of the local authorities and against their will, while local harvest contractors with crops under contract further north found that half of their labor had left with the glowing picture of free transportation, big wages and little hard work.

There are still farmers here who have awaited harvest time in the north before taking their crews off and now find that a great number are already gone. This is creating shortages at their prospective places of work.

When the Jamaicans were brought in last year by the Sugar Company they were told that they would be sent back north during the summer, and the same number who came here during the summer were sent back north during the summer, and the same number who came here during the summer were sent back north during the summer.

In an effort to protect our own farmers and prevent the wanton use of gas and tires the local Ration Board was asked not to issue gas and tires to departing farm workers unless certified by the local labor boys. This certificate was not given unless some farmer had in a written request and it okayed by the County Agent. Another effort was made to keep crews already organized here from leaving before their employer left for the winter.

It is reported that in a majority of northern communities where vegetables are major crops the labor situation is going back on a community scale of wages which is sent along with the goods. Universally these agreed prices are lower than are paid here.

Legion And Auxiliary Awards To Junior High School Pupils For Citizenship And Scholarship

It has been customary for the American Legion to award annually awards to that boy and girl in the ninth grade who have been selected by their fellow pupils and teachers to possess qualities of scholarship and character as set out by the National Committee.

Honor, courage, companionship, character and leadership together with scholastic standing are all considered and fellow pupils designate their choice and appraisal.

The winners of the Legion Award are Miss Louise Friedheim and Bobby Matthews.

The local Auxiliary has undertaken for the first time to make awards known as the "Cup of Knowledge" and selected similarly this year. Those winning that award are Barbara Will and Cecil Salter.

These awards are in addition to awards to the Senior boy and girl along the same lines which were won by Miss Ruth West and Billy Cromatic.

An oratorical contest sponsored jointly by the Rotary, Lions, and Legion was won by Francis Mulach, first, Alene Risk, second and Ruth Barstow, third.

In order to do their part in the War Effort, the 4-H girls have done extensive canning work to insure adequate summer food supplies and to save food.

Twenty-two club girls in nine Palm Beach communities have reported either in their record books or in story form that they have canned 2,117 containers, giving each girl an average of 96 containers of food.

A record of canning done by 4-H girls who have either earned all by themselves or have helped their mothers and friends.

Totals also were compiled for poultry and live stock reports among the girls. In 10 communities there are 1,655 chickens and a few ducks that are owned or cared for by 26 4-H members.

The records and stories show that many give daily care and others with the poultry raising, feeding, cleaning and treating ailments of the poultry and gathering eggs. Live stock work was reported as having been done during the year by 10 girls in seven towns and their totals are 24 cows and calves, 1 goat, and 6 pigs.

These totals have been taken from actual records returned to the assistant Home Demonstration Agent and will be added to from time to time when records are given. Many club girls have done these same activities, but they have failed to write their reports.

The Assistant Home Demonstration Agent has checked actual records and has the winners of County contests as follows:

The Kiwanis Club of WPB sponsored contests in canning, poultry, and gardening. Betty Fritz, Lake Worth Sr. High 4-H Club has been selected as the winner for the canning. In poultry, Elzior Chastain, Greenacres City, is the County winner. And the girl who has done the best gardening in P. B. County is Joyce Butts, Delray Beach 4-H Club. The prizes will be selected and presented to these three members very shortly.

Three awards have been offered by the Seneca Chapter of the DAR of West Palm Beach. To Carolyn King, Belle Glade.

Fresh Fruit And Vegetables Being Recognized By OPA

Efforts of the Florida Vegetable committee to secure consideration for hazards of production and marketing, including crop losses, in fixing ceilings on fresh fruit and vegetables, are having its effect in other States.

Texas and Colorado joined Florida in the effort, and the center of heavy crop movements toward other states, congressional support is being gained for the measure.

The State of Tennessee, where Senator Stewart is fathering an amendment to require OPA to make adequate allowances for these items.

The job of selling undertaken by the Committee seems to be bearing fruit.

The Glades has four able representatives on the Directorate of the controlling agency of the Committee. Sam Chastain, Beans, Ruth Wedgworth on leafy vegetables, Bob Creech on Cabbage, and Howard Hancy on Potatoes.

Representatives from Lee, Broward, Sarasota and Dade counties, gives South Florida a generous representation.

Crashing from 100 feet in a spin, Al Gaines, of Miami defeated the other contestants in a plane and met instant death Wednesday afternoon at the local airport.

Witnesses state that Gaines seemingly coming in for a landing on the north and south field did not realize that he was coming in down a runway, was halfway down the runway and attempted to make a turn to reverse his direction with the consequence of the loss of air speed.

Airport rules are that in such cases straight and level flight should have been maintained until opportunity to ascend to 500 feet and make a complete turn about the field before coming in for the second try.

Mr. Gaines was making a trial flight of the plane which belonged to Capt. Ted Thompson, and was considering the purchase of the plane.

She has a store of information about her work, this coupled with her warm and cordial personality, is sure to make her service helpful to all.

Since this will be Children's Day the parents are urged to bring their children to this service.

Commissioner of Internal Revenue Joseph D. Nunan, Jr. has been asked to furnish information returns to be filed by tax exempt organizations for the calendar year 1943 and for the first year ending before April 1, 1944.

To Pay For The Invasion Is The Purpose Of The Fifth War Loan Drive

5th WAR LOAN

The invasion brings right home to us the need for funds to pay the fare on the last lap of a "Trip to Berlin" which is the every man who is fortunate enough to land on the coast of France believes is his mission. "Over There" has become applicable to our present military operation just as it was in the last struggle. "And we won't come back 'til it's over over over over as applicable to today as it was then."

The job now is bigger, action moves faster and costs more. Our Commanders have a great respect for the lives of our boys and are dumping tons and tons of shells and bombs in order to convert these lives—and this costs money.

Florida has been assigned a quota of $137,000,000 with $57,000,000 in "E" bonds, $80,000,000 with $1,700,000 in "E" bonds, Dade, Duval, Hillsboro and Alameda counties have been asked to sell $88,500,000 of the state's total.

Palm Beach County has not divided its quota according to quotas but the Glades should account for at least 10 per cent of the County's total. Pahokee has taken $60,000 which leaves Belle Glade $750,000.

Milton Campbell, local War Finance Chairman, is organizing the Glades' efforts and all Glades inhabitants will be given an opportunity to subscribe their quota and an EXTRA BOND.

NAVY MAIL POURS INTO FLORIDA—An idea of the tremendous volume of Navy mail handled each day by postal authorities of the Seventh Naval District in Miami, is gained by a look at this small mountain of outgoing mail. WAVE Betty Petty, earnestly of Larchmont, N. Y., is checking the sack tags, with the assistance of Mail Specialist Jim Fowler. (Official Navy Photograph.)

Miami—The Navy is just as anxious to deliver letters and parcels from home to men in the Naval service as these men are to get them," said Lt. W. H. Henning, Seventh Naval District Postal Officer, in commenting on the vast and intricate job being done by the organization of this work.

He believes mail from home is the best morale builder in the service, and for that reason the Navy postal office leaves nothing undone to deliver it.

"But the very fact that the job is so tremendous entails a lot of problems," he added, "and often mail is delayed before it reaches men overseas. When it is considered that the volume of mail to men in foreign stations has now reached the staggering total of 25,000,000 pieces each week, it is reasonable to see that some mail is lost and some delayed in delivery."

Lt. Henning, who directs a tremendous flow of mail through Miami, believes that all the problems that arise on the mail delivery throughout the Navy have cropped up in his office at one time or another.

"Incorrect addressing, transposition of numerals, and illegible writing are three of the major reasons for delay and failure to deliver mail," he said, "but even so, more than 97 per cent of all Navy mail reaches its destination."

"Add the problem of Naval security necessitating the use of codes, numbers and keys, the routes through dangerous waters the mail often travels, and the fact that thousands of Naval personnel are transferred each month from one post of duty to another, and you get a clearer picture of the job."

A classic example of incorrect addressing reached the Postal Affairs Section of the Division of Naval Communications some time ago which read:

To:
"Man in U. S. Naval Fleet Reserve"

"With Seventh Day Adventist"

Wife.

"Joined Navy in 1915"

"Was a Methodist then"

"Washington, D. C."

Transposition of numerals can be eliminated to some extent by using the numerals and writing the complete number in addition, said Lt. Henning. Thus "731" is followed by "(Seven Three One)".

The Navy postal service is a big-time job with Naval personnel assigned to duty in 14,700 postoffices. The fleet postoffices at New York and San Francisco cover city blocks and are equal in size to a building 10 stories high.

"Each of these tremendous postoffices handles 30,000,000 letters and 5,900,000 parcels each month," said Lt. Henning.

"Part of this gigantic mail load will go through infested waters. Much of it will be subject to air attack. Huge flying boats, carrying thousands of pounds of mail, and flying vast distances, will deliver this mail over trackless thousands of miles of ocean. It is possible that men in outlying posts may receive their mail by mule back or other primitive means of reaching remote spots all over the world."

Men in service are requested to send their correct addresses to people with whom they correspond. "After all, a man's relatives and friends don't get his present address unless that man sends it to them," he said.

"If all Navy men would follow this simple rule most of our headaches would be ended."

Use of V-Mail, which is filmed and reproduced at advance bases, is, of course, urged by all Navy Postal officials.

ORGANIZED EFFORTS

here and are the result of concentrated action on the part of farmers.

A smooth working farmer's association in the Glades could arrive at a fair war time scale of wages and get the work done at these rates and not be forced with giving to the field hands whatever monies he wanted for the crops.

Until such an organization functions in the Glades, the U. S. will be the rule and the U. S. will get all the money, or practically all of it instead of a fair share of it, as he should.
